THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

When the mercury is 102,
And hopelessly you stew and stew
And some fool asks
"Is it hot enough for you?"
The recording angel credits you Because of the murder you didn't do.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PICNIC
JULY 4.

In this issue of THE NEWS appears a large display advertisement giving the program to be observed at the Knights of Columbus picnic near Paris, on July 4.

The Knights have under way extensive preparations for making this the premier event of its kind in Central Kentucky. Everyone who attends will be given courteous and careful attention, and nothing will be left undone to make the picnic a success. Joe J. Grosche, of the L. & N., is chairman of publicity for the big event. Read the ad, which will be followed by others.

THE REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA

Tickets for the Redpath Chautauqua, which is scheduled to begin here on July 8, and continue for seven days, have been distributed by A. S. Thompson, president of the local association, to a number of local persons and business houses.
The tickets so far distributed are to those who signed for them at the close of last year's Chautauqua. The general ticket campaign will be inaugurated this week. Season tickets for adults will sell for $3.05, including war tax. Children's tickets are $1.65. Tickets will be on sale at the banks and several convenient business houses which will be designated by placards in the windows.

DROUTH BROKEN

The drouth which prevailed all last week in this section was broken Saturday night by a heavy rain, which began about eight o'clock. The rain was accompanied by a brilliant display of lightning and by thunder.
Judging by the velocity of the wind and other conditions the drouth has been broken to the extent of considerable benefit to grass and corn, although the rain comes too late to do much good to potatoes, which have been damaged beyond repair. The storm caused some interference with telephone and telegraph service.
For the past three days Kentucky has been in the grip of an exceedingly hot wave, which made suffering humanity almost gasp for breath. The temperature several times climbed slightly beyond the ninety-degree mark. Several times relief appeared to be in sight, but hope vanished as night, succeeded day, and day succeeded night and the hot wave held its grip.

the Mammoth Garage Co., of Lexington and Paris, at the corner of Main and Second streets, is progressing rapidly. The brick work is finished and the steel trussed roof in position.
The work is being carried forward under the personal supervision of Richard Webb, of Lexington, one of the principal stockholders of the independently of his Lexington business, placing it in charge of a competent garage man. The big steel gasoline supply tank has been placed in position, and the general scheme of construction is progressing steadily.

E. I. Milner and Albert Perling, members of the new Leader store,

High street, between Boone and Fifteenth streets, adjoining the lot of to build modern homes for themselves. The lots were purchased from Mr. Ashcraft.

LOVELY RECEPTION AT THE
HUTCHCRAFT HOME

The stately residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft, at Second street and Houston avenue, has echoed the merrymaking of many festive affairs, but none were more gala than that given on Saturday evening for the very recent bride in the family, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Collier Dawes, Mrs. Dawes being Mary Fithian Hutchcraft, the elder of two charming daughters of the home. Throughout the house bowls of variegated garden flowers gave the crowning beauty of spring and summer to the hospitable rooms. The guests were received in the spacious hall by Miss Helen Hutchcraft, Zillah Dawes and Elizabeth Crutcher.

In the drawing room to the left Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft and Mr. and Mrs. Dawes composed the receiving line. Mrs. Dawes, radiant brunnette beauty, was emphasized by her wedding gown of soft white satin, with touches of duchesse lace, and a corsage of valley lilies. Mrs. Hutch-craft wore a lovely gown of grey crepe de chine. Mrs. M. H. Dailey, assisting in the room, wore a gown of blue broadcloth satin.

Mrs. Edward Prichard and Mrs.
John F. Davis, assisted by Misses Josephine Fithian, Mary May, Emily Dawes, Helen and Sarah Dedman, presided at the punch table. Miss Sarah Ashbrook, Mrs. James C. Dedman, Mrs. James Moreland (Danville) and Mrs. Thomas W. Allen assisted in entertaining in the living room.

Supper was to have been served afresco, but the threatening skies of the afternoon induced discussion, so the spacious dining room was the center of this agreeable episode. Delicious individual ices in American Beauty roses were served. The presents were on display in the library and were very handsome, the wide connections of the bride and groom bringing from all parts of the country the charming array of silver tea services, art furniture, linens and the thousand and one personal and household belongings so much the part of the bridal to-day.

The guests numbered more than two hundred, and were from all parts of the State, Lexington, Georgetown, Louisville, Danville, Winchester and Richmond being represented.
